

Life Abundant Ministries: Promises to Partners

1. We are called to teach, preach, and equip the Body of Christ so that they may be ready always to give an answer for the hope that is within them (1 Pet. 3:15). That is the mission of our ministry.
2. People hunger for answers to life's questions. Those answers may be found exclusively in God's Word (2 Tim. 3:16). That is why everything we teach is based on the Bible.
3. All our materials are affordable and easily accessible (1 Tim. 6:17). Lack of money will never be a hindrance to anyone receiving from our ministry.
4. Our events are intended to bless those who attend. They are always free or affordable and our guests should always walk away with something tangible and meaningful. We invite all who are willing to come, not for our benefit, but for theirs. As sowers of the Word, we are always looking for good soil and people willing to draw on the anointing (Mark 4:20).
5. We don't concern ourselves with making money from our meetings or our materials. We want people to receive the Word and consider every dollar sown into good soil (Gal. 6:8–10).
6. We want to give ministry opportunities to those who would be blessed by them. We are honored to share our events with other ministers the Lord connects us to. We are co-laborers in the Gospel (1 Cor. 3:9) and God gets the glory.
7. We do not seek donations or gifts. We offer opportunities for partnership (Phil. 1:7 and 4:17). When someone partners with a ministry, they draw upon the anointing that's on that ministry. Partnership is also not limited to finances. We expect our partners to pray for us, join their faith with ours, share our materials with others, and sow financially as they are led. In return, we promise to pray for our partners, be upright in all we say and do, be responsible with the gifts entrusted to us, and be Spirit-led in all our work.
